The Benefits Of Cloth Menstrual Pads

Using cloth pads can potentially decrease menstrual flow, period discomfort, skin irritation, and risk of yeast infections. Most who have made the switch report many or all of these changes in their monthly cycle.

Cloth pads are far more breathable, comfortable and gentle against sensitive skin than disposable pads.

On average, 10,000 to 15,000 disposable menstrual products would be thrown away over the estimated 40 years from puberty to menopause. Compare that to cloth. Only 80 to 100 cloth pads total would be needed if purchasing 20 to 25 cloth pads every 10 years.

How To Use

Print side with channel stitching goes against skin. Solid colour leakproof fleece side goes against panty. Use with regular snug fitting panties for best fit. Wing tabs are sewn to the front of the pad so when wrapped around to the underside they form a gentle contoured shape. Place pad with print side facing up (the side with channel stitching), wrap wings out, down, and around panty gusset and snap into place. Also available in wingless style.

How To Launder

Launder pads before initial use. Machine wash on regular cycle in cold water (hot water will set blood stains) or hand wash. Presoaking optional. Do not use bleach. Do not use fabric softener or dryer sheets as these coat the fabric fibres and decrease absorbency. Machine dry on regular cycle or hang dry.
